Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

I. Claims 1-15, drawn to a firefighting implement, classified in class 30, subclass 123.

II. Claims 16-23, drawn to a method of making a firefighting implement by casting into a single piece of metal, classified in class 83, subclass 13.

III. Claims 24-26, drawn to a method of making a firefighting by using an axe blade and coupling a handle and a front blade to the axe blade, classified in class 83, subclass 13.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because:

a. Inventions II and I are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case (2) applies because the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process that does not require the step of casting into a single piece of metal. For example, methods of forging, welding different pieces of metal together, or machining a piece of metal.

b. Inventions III and I are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case (2) applies because the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process that does not require coupling pieces of metal together. For Example, methods of forging, casting, welding different pieces of metal together, or machining a piece

c. Inventions III and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions because the Invention II sets forth a method of casting into a piece of metal and cannot produce a firefighting implement which is made of coupled members and Invention III sets forth a method of coupling pieces of metal together that cannot produce a single piece firefighting implement.

2. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

3. Upon election of inventions I-III above, applicant is required to further elect one of the following species as set forth below.

4. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

- a. Species I. (Fig. 1);
- b. Species II. (Fig. 2); and
- c. Species III. (Fig. 3).

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim is generic.

Art Unit: 3724

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species.

MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

5. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR. 1.143).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Ghassem Alie whose telephone number is (703) 305-4981.
